DEAR FRIENDS, DEAR ECPB MEMBERS, DEAR GUESTS,

After limiting ourselves to online meetings for far too long due to the pandemic, we are happy to finally be able to hold an ECPB workshop face-to-face in Hannover in 2022. This year we aim to take the term "workshop" literally, and so we have planned a program that combines plenty of practical work with the opportunity to touch, try out, and compare materials and equipment.

As usual, the last few years have brought interesting developments to the field of burn medicine regarding new equipment and methods. This year, our focus in both the lectures and workshops is on the topic "Update Pediatric Burn Care". We also give a central role to the topic of "Facial Burns and their Complex Reconstruction", while our third focus is "Burn Care International". A central part of this session will be the question of how we at ECPB can support self-help in emerging countries such as Tunisia, Uganda, and Afghanistan as well as newly industrialized countries like Mexico.

As in the previous year, our fourth focal point deals with the ongoing issue of the declining numbers of pediatric burn cases and the implications for training centers. The ECPB meeting offers an ideal opportunity to illuminate and discuss this difficult topic using keynote speakers from different countries.

WORKSHOPS

Consider this an open invitation to actively participate in our diverse and interesting workshops. Our workshop motto is "hands-on", so be ready to get stuck in!

HANDS-ON WORKSHOPS

Skin plastics, local flaps and harvesting split thickness skin grafts

This workshop will teach skin harvesting procedures and various flaps interactively. It particularly targets newcomers and young colleagues in the field of burn medicine.

Ingo Königs, Hamburg | Vincent März, Hannover | Thuid Hofmann, Hannover

Update: Wound dressings: „From Fish to Plastic“

This workshop discusses the variety of different dressing materials and skin substitutes. Here too, the focus is on active participation and the testing of the various materials as well as their most appropriate applications and indications.

Miriam Renkert, Mannheim | Bernd Hartmann, Berlin

Update: Technical possibilities

In this workshop, the technical achievements of recent years will be approached in a practical manner and discussed for use in burn medicine.

*Nicos Marathovouniotis, Köln | Wera Wendenburg, Krefeld
Mechthild Sinnig, Hannover | Katharina Schriek, Hannover*

The „Experience the Anatomy of the Face Artistically“ Workshop

A medical-theoretical and artistic-practical approach to facial reconstruction: The burn surgical reconstruction of the face represents a major challenge. This course will not only theoretically examine this complex task with burn surgery experts in this field, but it will also have a main focus on creating faces (or ears, noses, or mouths) from clay under artistic guidance, aiming for an intense familiarization with the unique anatomy of these body parts.
